CATHOLIC WAR FUND GOES 'OVER THE TOP' A MILLION STRONG

K. of C. Drive for $2,500,000 a Phenomenal Success—Returns Not Yet All In.

With a ninth inning rally that netted something over $200,000 the Knights of Columbus War Fund drive went wild with enthusiasm to-day when the announcement was made that the great drive had gone "over the top" with approximately a million to spare. Exactly what the amount collected for the entire campaign will not be known until to-night and probably not then. As on the occasion of the last Presidential election the returns are coming in slowly, but right now it is known that the amount on hand is $1,124,493. The last big gun of the campaign was fired when the Rockefeller Institute announced a donation of $100,000. This large sum was added to the total of Judge Morgan J. O'Brien's Downtown Committee, and combined with other amounts received by the ten teams of the committee, brings the total result of their efforts to $1,530,038.

The work of the Downtown Committee will in all probability be concluded to-day. Yesterday brought in $196,780. Another large contributor to the committee was Payne Whitney, who sent his check for $25,000. Edward Stettinius of J. P. Morgan & Co., who is engaged in important work for the Government, gave $5,000. Felix M. Warburg added another $5,000 and J. D. Rockefeller Jr. still another $5,000. Robert J. Collier swelled the total of Joseph P. Grace's team with a $5,000 check, while Henry Heide's team received $5,000 from the Brewer's Board of Trade. In the daily Wall Street battle for high honors Nicholas F. Brady's team had to give way to Judge O'Brien's team, the latter reporting $109,509 for the day. The Rockefeller Institute contribution was the largest single contribution of the campaign.

Mr. Javella addressed the downtown workers at their daily luncheon yesterday. He declared that everybody should be happy because of the news received that the British had driven the Germans back across the Somme. "After having cheered for this good news we should be happy and cheer again because the Catholic War Fund drive has gone 'Over the Top,'" he said. "The Downtown Committee has done splendidly and the parishes have done equally well. The work, I am sure, will be of lasting advantage to all of us."

It was announced yesterday that the proceeds from the sale of confectios in the Huyler stores last Friday amounted to about $700. Huyler's also gave an additional $50 to the Mount Vernon and New Rochelle parishes, making $750 in all.
Through an inadvertence it was announced that the firm of McCrory & Co. had contributed $1,000 to the fund. The amount in reality was a donation from the employees of McCrory & Co.

Yesterday afternoon the Fifth and Drum Corps of the Boy Scouts of St. Catherine of Siena's, No. 420 East 6th Street, paraded New York on a day of a Fifth Avenue bus, making

ROCKEFELLER INSTITUTE'S BIG DONATION.

The Rockefeller Institute in announcing its contribution of $100,000 to the war fund, wrote the following letter to Judge O'Brien: "It was a pleasure to all of us connected with the Executive Committee of the Foundation to vote the appropriation of $100,000 to the New York Catholic War Fund. I am enclosing an official letter from the Secretary of the Foundation, which will take the place of filling out the blank."

"As I explained to you over the telephone this afternoon we desire to have this money go for the camp work of the Knights of Columbus. Our understanding is that the Foundation contribution will be a part of the money which the New York Catholic War Fund will turn over to the Knights of Columbus. Yours sincerely, GEORGE E. VINCENT, President."

The 237 parishes in the Archdiocese of New York were divided into thirty-five zones. The report to-day from the K. of C. headquarters with regard to the amounts collected in each zone is as follows: No. 1, $75,000; No. 2, $125,000; No. 3, $125,000; No. 4, $225,000; No. 5, $125,000; No. 6, $325,000; No. 7, $325,000; No. 8, $131,500; No. 9, $345,500; No. 10, $48,250; No. 11, $251,100; No. 12, $251,500 and No. 13, $150. The first nine zones are in New York City and their total is $2,048,000. The last four are out of the city and their total is $448,000.

COAL OUTPUT IS CUT DOWN.

Half-Million Tons Less Moves Forward to Repeat Warning.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—More than half a million tons less in coal production last week caused the Fuel Administration to reiterate to-day warnings that next winter's supply should be laid in early to keep mines working to capacity. The falling off, if continued, officials said, would mean serious shortages next winter to those who did not purchase in advance.

Criticism of price reductions by the Administration have been answered by Fuel Administrator Garfield in a letter to Senator Thomas, who recently announced that Colorado mines were closing because of low prices. Dr. Garfield said the cost sheets furnished by the mines "do not warrant the assumption that they have closed down because of inability to operate at a profit."
Regulations imposing penalties on operators who fail to meet the contract standard for clean coal, announced by the fuel administration to-day, allow a coal producer to sell his coal and other fuel which require special operations to produce.

FOOD BOARD DRAWS FOOD MERCHANTS LINE CLOSER IN USE OF BEEF AND PORK AS A CITY BUYER

New Rule Hits the Homes as Well as Hotels and Restaurants.

All kinds of beef and pork, whether fresh or salted, will be barred in every home, hotel, restaurant and eating place in New York City to-day if the rule just released by the Food Administration is observed. In a statement issued to-day the Food Board asked that beef and pork in all their forms be obtained from on every Tuesday until further notice.

Restaurants and hotels should not serve these meats on Tuesday, nor should any delicatessen, grocery or butcher store sell them in cooked form on these days. The meats which should not be sold or eaten include the internals of beef, veal and pork animals, such as a heart, brains and liver, and also all preparations such as bologna, salami and liverwurst.

This does not interfere with the sale of uncooked beef or pork, nor with the sale of meats in canned form when they are sold in their original containers, nor with the sale of uncooked frankfurters or uncooked sausage.

"The use in all forms of mutton, lamb and poultry, with the exception of hens and pullets, is permitted. The names of all manufacturers of macaroni and other alimentary pastes who operate to-day without a license or without having applied for a license will be reported to the United States District Attorney for prosecution, announcement by the Food Board said. The penalty for violating the rules is a fine of $5,000, two years imprisonment, or both fine and imprisonment.

More than 200 manufacturers of alimentary pastes were called before Ann Fox, acting as Special Commissioner, late yesterday afternoon, to determine if they had licenses or had applied for them. The inquiry developed that many of them are without a license. Mr. Fox issued a warning to all of them present that the Food Board will send out inspectors to-day, and any manufacturer of alimentary pastes who is found to be operating in defiance of the rules will be dealt with drastically.

Temporary closings of three restaurants for violation of the beef and porkless day order of the administration have been ordered by the Food Board. The restaurants that will close are Ugo & Cherophony of No. 54 West 56th Street, who will not be permitted to do business to-day; William Verda of No. 428 Sixth Avenue, who will be forced to remain closed to-day and to-morrow; and Mrs. R. Goodstein of No. 36 Harrison Street, who must close to-day, Thursday and Friday.

A check for $700 will be sent to the American Red Cross Society by the Food Board to-day to cover the amount of a forced contribution by Jacobs Held of No. 420 Grand Street. Held admitted having overcharged for flour. He had the alternative of contributing $700 to the Red Cross or having his license revoked.
As a part of the food census and food conservation work, an appeal was sent out by the Food Board to all housewives to-day to submit figures showing the amount of food on hand and the yearly consumption. Miss Matilda McKeown of the Food Administration in Washington has just arrived here to assist in this work. Branch offices for the collection of these data have been established by the Bureau of Conservation of the State Food Council at No. 149th Street, Bronx; the Eagle Building, Washington Street, Brooklyn; No. 33 Amity Street, Flushing, L. I., and in the rooms of the National League for Women's Service, Borough Hall, Staten Island. The upper and lower Manhattan work will be done at the Food Board headquarters, No. 22 West 57th Street.

WESTCHESTER NOTES.

In the suit of Edward and Polly Hughes against the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company for damages for the killing of their son Wilbur at Shenandoah the jury, before Justice Platt at White Plains, has given a verdict for $4,300. The plaintiffs sued for $25,000.

In the suit of Sophia Thell of Yonkers against Thomas H. Karr of Troy for personal damages a jury before Justice Kough gave the plaintiff a verdict for $10,000 damages to-day. The defendant put in no appearance. On June 29, 1916, Karr's car, driven by his wife, ran into the side of a truck and struck Mrs. Thell.

Mayor Thompson of White Plains has appointed J. Crawford Stevens, Frank Lamb, Loton H. Slawson, Henry B. Barrett and Howard Clarke as the Liberty Loan Committee and they have made Richard M. Jeap Chairman.

Urging all the churches of all denominations in Westchester to invest the collections taken up at the Easter services in War Savings Stamps, a special committee has been appointed and a direct appeal for the movement will be made to every citizen.

POULTRY PROFITEERING BROUGHT ON BY PASSOVER

Demand for Live Fowls Sends Prices Beyond Bounds and Warning Is Issued.

Excessive profiteering in live poultry is one of the results of the celebration of the Passover by orthodox Jews of the city, according to a warning sent out to-day by G. L. Bennett of the Federal Food Board. In the rush to obtain live fowls for use in Passover ceremonial many consumers are paying as high as 40 cents and $1 a pound for live roosters and chickens, whereas the retail price should not be in excess of from 45c to 44c.

"Since the wholesalers cannot get any higher prices than those established by their agreement with the Food Board last February," said Mr. Bennett, "it is evident that the payment of a higher price cannot possibly increase the supply. If they find the people will not pay exorbitant prices the profiteers will be forced to sell their stocks at a fair margin of profit."

The Food Board urges that consumers report at once dealers and kosher butchers who are charging more than the prices cited above.

Furniture With The Charm of Colour

Down through the centuries, Master Craftsmen have wrought wonders with Colour.

The lacquers of the Orient, the enchanting ornamentations of the Empire period, the paintings introduced in Carolean and Cromwellian days, the delicate embellishments employed by the Brothers Adam, all are reflected here in the Furniture of today.

How delightful the atmosphere of the Sunny Breakfast Room, in which a quaintly decorated Suite, smiles a morning greeting. Gay little Tables, Buffets, Chairs—cheery, colorful, altogether charming. Here a willow pattern Suite in ivory, with the century old legend in the richest of blues. Bolder in design a Suite in Chinese blue with vivid scarlet and yellow decorations. Is elegance essential? Choose this marvellously artistic Suite in mulberry with turquoise and gold lacquer. Others a-plenty to meet every mood and fancy, to harmonize with every color scheme.

A happy thought, that of employing Decorated Furniture for Sun Parlor or Living Room. In brilliant blue, with floral motifs, a rather simple Suite for Bungalow or Cottage. More ambitious, a Chinese Chippendale Suite in soft blue with buff, cushioned in blended shades of azure and gold. Huge Davenport, Tables, luxurious Lounging Chairs, Fern Stands. Can you picture a more appealing ensemble?

For the Hall, where dignity is the keynote, a Florentine Suite in dusky brown walnut, with glint of dull gold, shadowy green and rose, commingled. For nooks and corners, there are painted chairs with flower-baskets, all a-bloom; lacquered tables or Oriental color opulence; odd pieces—galore!

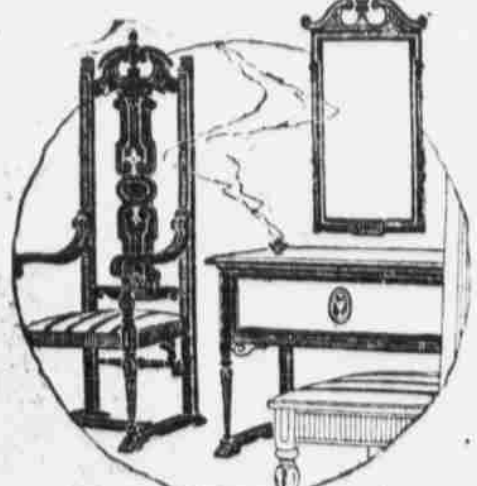

For the Bedroom, Suites in parchment tinted or silver grey enamel; some with floral decorations in blossom colors; others in ivory with traceries of gold; in black lacquer gorgeous with the gleam of gold and scarlet.
